Introduction

As the third fastest-adopting continent in terms of cryptocurrency, Africa represents a unique opportunity for PCR to bring together African entrepreneurs and drive the project's success. PCR is designed to appeal to African entrepreneurs seeking economic freedom, prosperity, and opportunity to generate wealth.

To achieve its goal of mass adoption in Africa and beyond, PCR aims to build a strong community around the token, using marketing campaigns and taking advantage of the rising popularity of cryptocurrency on the continent.

In line with promoting entrepreneurship, PCR seeks to contribute to Africa's development by setting up a Free Tuition Business School for 100% Entrepreneurship with Business Financing for all students at the end of their program. Therefore, PCR will also serve as a means of crowdfunding for the Entrepreneurship Business School. Then after listing on different exchanges, as the token's value rises, investors can use their profits to reinvest in their own businesses, support their families and friends, and contribute to the economic growth of their communities.

PCR token will be available for purchase and use by anyone in the world.
